

1GC | Family Law

Gemma Neath

Year of Call: 2024

Practice Overview

Before joining 1GC Family Law, Gemma practiced at a prestigious solicitor's firm for over 10 years specialising in Care Proceedings. She was one of the firm's specialist in-house Solicitor-Advocates and has appeared in courts at all levels. She undertakes work in all areas of Public and Private Children Law.

Gemma represents guardians, parents, grandparents and other family members, as well as local authorities. Gemma's public law work includes care proceedings, adoption, deprivation of liberty orders, and wardship.

Within her private law work, Gemma regularly undertakes all aspects of children law including child arrangements, special guardianship, and permission to remove a child from the jurisdiction.

Gemma has particular experience in separately representing competent children and a keen interest in representing young and vulnerable parents, including those with mental health or learning difficulties.

Prior to transferring to the Bar, Gemma was a member of the Law Society's Children Panel and Family Panel, and a member of Resolution.

Children (Private Law)

Gemma represents Guardians, parents, grandparents and other family members whether in private or public law proceedings. She has a keen interest in representing competent children and young parents.

Children (Public Law)

Domestic Violence & Injunctions

Education

LPC, College of Law, London, 2006

Law, LLB, University of Sussex, 2005

Memberships & Associations

The Honourable Society of Gray's Inn

The Association of Lawyers for Children

Personal

Travel, skiing and theatre